PROJECTS

THE MODERN DAY FLANEUR / A SENSE of time : 2019 - Present // An immersive sensory experience, “live” performance, interactive installation, that shares the journey of A Modern day Flaneur as she observes and explores her daily life through a sense of time. A theatrical storytelling event that uses spoken word, poetic verses, travel journals, soundscapes, visual projections, and performance to engage the senses and immerse the audience in the moment. Each expression and each action is meant to engage each of the senses, evoke memories, and resonate on a level that defined our perception as both being unique and entangled. To cultivate a more profound sense of presence with her viewers, she invites them to interact and participate in a guided meditative practice that is both mindful and creative.

- Curator, narrator, visuals, screenwriter, producer, guide.
